

Hybrid Online/In-Person Meetings

Technology has been a nimble and amazing tool for AA, providing a way for meetings to continue virtually even though we can't physically be together. Many groups have found that the Zoom platform (and other platforms) allow them to serve AA members who could not easily attend in-person meetings before. There are also many members who will not feel safe to return to in-person meetings for the foreseeable future. As we move into the future, some groups will want to keep the best of both worlds by holding "hybrid" online/in-person meetings.

We are currently researching some different methods for setting up hybrid meetings. We already know that, depending on the meeting size and budget, hybrid meetings can function with a setup consisting of as little as a single mobile phone, to as much as a camera, microphone, speaker, laptop, projection screen, and its own wifi source. And a variety of options somewhere between the two!
