

Public Health Resources

While planning to resume in-person meetings, A.A. groups should be aware of state and county restrictions, and possibly also city restrictions. In addition, each facility may have its own individual requirements. Note that if one public health order is more strict than another, the more strict order applies.

Below are links to the state and county websites listing health directives that apply to our area. You may need to familiarize yourself with multiple different documents on each website. The Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) and Q&A's can provide helpful nuts-and-bolts details.
